Communicating your organization’s changing priorities, initiatives and goals is essential.

Everybody gets busy and pressed for time in today’s world. But it is important to schedule in regular meetings with your Account Manager to keep them up to date on your constantly changing needs. New products may have arrived, new locations may be opening, new challenges may need to be overcome, and new opportunities are constantly being presented to any organization. Keep us in the loop with regularly scheduled teleconference meetings.

Just one more way that “We’ve Got Your Back.”

WHY YOU SHOULD BE TELECONFERENCING:

1. Collaborate on new script ideas
2. Review existing scripts for any needed updates
3. Review current background music selections
4. Discuss upcoming promotions and ads
5. Share plans on new locations or moves
6. Go over any changes in policies and procedures
7. Identify any new, overstocked or hot products
8. Continue training on Shuffle CMS
9. Enhance orientation of new users/admins
10. Take advantage of screen-sharing abilities
